Internet Subscription Service – Speedy Delivery!

No more waiting for Census Bureau reports! In May, Census introduced a new three-tiered subscription service on its Internet site that will allow you to view and print statistical reports that look like published documents. This service eventually will let you define and print custom tables and maps.

Income and Poverty, Annual Survey of Communications, County Business Patterns — these are all popular Census Bureau reports. Now you don't have to wait for your report to come in the mail.

Free - for a Time

The new service has a free, browse-and-get-acquainted period of 3 months. After that, the Bureau will offer single-user, unlimited access subscriptions to its Tier 1 service on an annual basis (for $150) or for a quarter ($50). Multi-user unlimited access accounts for up to 200 users will be available for $500 a year. Subscriptions for multi-user accounts with more than 200 users will cost $1,500 annually.

The service will help accelerate the shift (announced last year) from printed reports to electronic dissemination. The subscription service will encompass all the Bureau's statistical reports printed by the Government Printing Office since January 1, 1996, and many issued before that date.

The subscription service uses Adobe Acrobat reader software, which may be downloaded for free from Adobe's World Wide Web site (<http://w1000.mv.us.adobe.com/Acrobat/readstep.html>). With the current version of Acrobat (2.1), data users can print out an entire document or any number of pages.

A new version of the software, code-named "Amber," scheduled for release this summer, will also enable users to save files to their hard disks.

Walter C. Odom, Jr., chief of the Bureau's Administrative and Customer Services Division, observes, "We think it will satisfy the needs of customers who want quick, convenient access to Census Bureau reports."

Subscribers will avoid the hassle or delay of ordering printed reports by telephone or mail. Using the subscription service, a user could download a report or particular tables as soon as they were released electronically, weeks, even months ahead of the printed versions.

Three Tiers Coming

"This is the wave of the future in publishing," Odom predicts, adding that some data now available in the free part of the Census Bureau's Internet site would remain free.

Free publications, such as Statistical Briefs and Product Profiles, still are located in the free part of the Census Bureau's Internet site.

Tier 1 is available now. The second and third tiers will be added in the future. Tier 2 of the Bureau's Internet plans, Odom says, will feature manipulation, extraction, and display tools similar to "DataMap," "Census Lookup," and the "Thematic Mapping System," popular features now located in the free part of the Census Bureau site. Tier 3 will let you carry out custom data extraction and tabulations online according to your own geographic and subject specifications.

The .pdf (Portable Document Format) documents include color graphs, charts, tables, and other visual and typographic enhancements. To help users keep track of what is available, there are subject and title indexes, product descriptions, and a "What's New" feature, listing the latest additions.

Census and You and the Monthly Product Announcement also will announce when charges go into effect. In the meantime, access our home page and give it a try!

DATA FILES

Data files recently released are listed below. They are sold by Customer Services unless otherwise noted.

(Sales are final—with the exception that defective products may be returned within 90 days. Contact Customer Services before returning an item.)

The cost of new files on computer tape generally is based on the file size, with the minimum charge being $175. The files are offered on tape reels or tape cartridges.

Data files also are offered on compact disc—read-only memory (CD-ROM), a 4 3/4-inch laser disc. The price for a mass-produced CD-ROM, prepared for popular files, generally is $150.

CD-ROM's also can be prepared on request for other data files otherwise available only on tape reel or cartridge. The cost for such CD's is the same as the cost for the tape file. The CD files are ASCII copies in the same format as on tape, and they are not accompanied by software. Since the discs are specially prepared in response to customers' requests, orders take about three to four weeks. For further information about this service, contact Customer Services.

Files available on diskette ("floppies") for IBM and compatible microcomputers also are listed.

An ever increasing variety of data files and product information (including this publication) can be accessed via the Internet, CENDATA™, or directly through the bulletin board Census-Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) Electronic Forum. (See "How to Order" on page 10 for more information.)

Some files are exclusively online, such as those listed in the "Online Data" section, below.

Technical documentation, included with each file order, also generally is available separately. The price varies.

SELECTED ABSTRACTS

This section features abstracts for various products released during the month or previously released products of wide interest.

American Housing Survey: Components of Inventory Change: 1980-1991, United States and Regions (H151/91-2)

Data time span—1980 and 1991.

Geographic areas covered—United States and regions.

Subject content—This report presents data on the components of change in the housing inventory and related demographic and financial characteristics. The components of change include housing units added through new construction or other sources; changed by conversion or merger; or lost through demolition or disaster, or in some other way. The report also covers housing units that existed throughout the period, therefore staying the same in number. Tables also indicate change and components of change inside and outside metropolitan areas and their central cities.

The report covers the housing inventory for 1980 and 1991, as well as data for 1991 for housing added and 1980 data for units lost since 1980.

Tables for housing units created since 1980 provide data for height and condition of building, size of unit and lot, selected equipment and plumbing, fuels, housing and neighborhood quality, and financial characteristics. In addition, data show failures in equipment and selected housing costs.

Data related to financial and income characteristics include selected monthly housing costs, real estate taxes, condominium and cooperative fee, income, amount of savings and investments, and food stamps. For owner occupied units, tables are provided for value, purchase price, and source of down payment; mortgage characteristics; and repairs, improvements, and alterations.

The report also includes such general social and demographic characteristics as race, persons 65 years old and over, and household composition by age of householder, and presence of own children, subfamilies, or other relatives or nonrelatives.

The statistics in this report are based on data collected for the Components of Inventory Change (CINCH) Survey, which was conducted by the U.S. Bureau of the Census and sponsored by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

HOW TO ORDER

Publications

Order publications marked with an asterisk (*) from our Publications Unit in Indiana and pay by check or Census deposit account. (Make your check payable to "Commerce-Census." Use the "Publications" order blank on the next page.) Some publications may be available from Customer Services (Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233; 301-457-1221) or other sources as noted.

To order technical documentation for machine-readable data files, use the Census Bureau "Electronic Media, Documentation, and Other" order form. You may order documentation from Customer Services by phone (301-457-4100; TDD: 301-457-4611) or fax (301-457-3842) when charging documentation to a VISA, MasterCard, or Census Bureau deposit account.

Unless otherwise noted, use the Government Printing Office (GPO) order form on page 12 for other publications, or you may call 202-512-1800 when using your MasterCard, VISA or GPO Deposit Account. To order using fax, call 202-512-2250. The notation "GPO S/N" identifies the stock number.

GPO offers a 25-percent discount for orders of 100 copies or more of a publication sent to one address. For foreign mailings, add 25-percent to the price.

Computer Files

To order data files, use the Census Bureau "Electronic Media, Documentation, and Other" order form, or order by phone or fax. (Sales are final—with the exception that defective products may be returned within 90 days. Contact Customer Services before returning an item.)

Technical documentation accompanies each file, or it often may be ordered separately. (See instructions in second paragraph under "Publications," above.)

The cost of new files on computer tape generally is based on the file size, with the minimum charge being $175. The files are offered on tape reels or tape cartridges. (Arrangements for files on CD-ROM are covered below.)

The tape cartridges are IBM 3480 compatible (operable with StorageTek 4780 tape sub-systems and Digital Equipment Corporation VAX TA90 sub-systems).

Some data files are available on diskettes for IBM and compatible microcomputers. Diskettes generally cost $66 for the first disk and $6 for each additional diskette in a file.

When mass-produced, files on CD-ROM (compact disc—read-only memory) also are listed in the "Data Files" section earlier in this publication. These CD-ROM's generally cost $150. Other tape files can be produced on CD-ROM by special order. See the discussion under "Data Files".

Online Access

Many reports and data files are accessible, in whole or in part, online through the Internet, the Census/BEA Electronic Forum (our bulletin board system (BBS)), and CENDATA™. For information about accessing data through the Internet, the Electronic Forum, and CENDATA (which is available only through CompuServe and DIALOG), call 301-457-1242. You may reach our Internet site via these protocols:
